firma.de and Legalbase.de Join Forces

Combined businesses to continue work as firma.de, offering entrepreneurs a single platform for starting and running their business.

WIESBADEN/BERLIN. firma.de, the leading online platform that provides company formation services to entrepreneurs and start-ups in Germany, has announced its strategic partnership with Legalbase.de, a digital platform which was recently acquired by LegalZoom Germany. Legalbase.de allows businesses and consumers access to legal services for fixed-fee prices.

“This collaboration positions firma.de as a stronger agent of change in the legal tech market,” said Christian Manthey, Founder & CEO of www.firma.de. “We combine our dedication to entrepreneurs and their business needs with Legalbase’s simple and reliable legal solutions to allow founders and small businesses to focus their time even more on building and growing their business.”

This cooperation will combine the capabilities and expertise of both businesses for a unique, all-in-one platform that will offer entrepreneurs a cost-effective tool set to run and scale their business. firma.de’s services currently include formation, accounting, tax, legal, and payroll solutions, combining personal advice and leading technology to make life easier for entrepreneurs.
